DAVINGTON PARK

FAVERSHAM

Stepping into The New Heritage Collection at Davington Park is truly like  coming home.

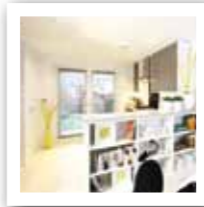

The warmth and natural hospitality evoke a sense of times gone by. Walking through a new Redrow home you experience today's modern living in the kitchen, the dining and family space and every room in between.

Just an hour from London, yet a world away from the city stress, Faversham is one of Kent's hidden gems. Steeped in history, yet full of vibrant modern life, it is the perfect match for the New Heritage Collection.

Faversham sits on the edge of the open marshes of the Swale, creating a stunning backdrop to this historic 16th century market town. Yet despite this rural tranquility, it retains excellent commuter links, with London easily accessible by rail or via the nearby M2 motorway, giving you the best of both worlds – just like your new Redrow home.

Transport

Faversham is perfectly placed within easy reach of a variety of destinations, with London just 50 miles away to the West, Canterbury just 10 miles to the East and Dover 25 miles to the South. Regular trains run from Faversham into London St Pancras in just over an hour, trains to Canterbury taking 11 minutes, trains to Dover taking 40 minutes.

Your new Redrow home

Head south to Ashford, just 14 miles away, and you can take the Eurotunnel direct to Paris and Europe beyond, or head to Dover for ferries to Calais in just 1 1/2 hrs, as well as Boulogne and Dunkirk. Gatwick airport is also within easy reach, just 60 miles away by motorway.

A Remarkable Market Town

Faversham is an exceptional market town, with lots of original architecture from the 16th century adding to the atmosphere of quality and culture. It is known as a 'foodie haven' with lots of restaurants and gastro pubs, cafe's and delicatessens, plus there is a real artistic vibe to the town too, with many galleries, antique shops and craft stores.

The artistic feel is reflected in the local entertainment, with a traditional old-style cinema and a small town theatre. Even the beer is traditionally crafted, with Faversham home to Sheperds Neame, Britain's oldest brewery, makers of the popular Spitfire and Bishops Finger ales. A brewery tour makes a fascinating, and flavour filled, afternoon.

Closer to home, the development lies within walking distance of a main Sainsbury's supermarket, on Bysing Wood Road, as well as a choice of welcoming pub restaurants.

Sport and Leisure

Faversham boasts both an indoor and outdoor swimming pool, as well as a choice of golf clubs. Kent play county cricket at Canterbury, while Faversham FC provide local football entertainment. For walkers, both the Swale Heritage Trail and the Saxon Shore Way pass close to the development, while nearby Bysing Wood is the perfect place to walk the dog. Further afield, the North Downs provide endless walking and leisure opportunities.

A choice of traditional coastal towns ring the seafront to the East of Faversham, with Whitstable, Herne Bay and Margate all within easy reach for a family day out on the beach.

Local Services

There is a choice of local primary schools within walking distance, including Davington Primary and Bysing Wood Primary, while for seniors, the Abbey School and Queen Elizabeth's Grammar are both highly rated. The famous King's School in Canterbury, claimed to be the oldest in the world, is also within easy reach.

Both doctors and dentists can be found on Bank Street in Faversham. Call Faversham Health Centre on 01795 562000 or Faversham Dental Surgery on 01795 562027.
